Schulte partners Christopher Avellaneda and Kelly Kosciuszka quoted in FundFire

August 25, 2023

Schulte Roth & Zabel partners Christopher Avellaneda and Kelly Kosciuszka recently spoke to Tom Stabile and Lydia Tomkiw for their FundFire article, “SEC Adopts Sweeping Final Private Fund Disclosure Rule,” where they discussed the SEC’s adoption of the most sweeping revisions to private fund regulations since the 2010 Dodd-Frank Act.

According to Chris, there is still a lot to digest and understand about the rules, but “[o]ur first take is this is going to be a significant and far-reaching rule that will impact how fund managers interact with their investors and clients.”

Noting the provisions from the original 2022 proposal that were cut or altered, Kelly said, “You are hearing some relief because there were changes. But we shouldn’t lose sight of how significant the changes will be.”
