

Schulte Roth&Zabel

Why Schulte?

The firm is really committed to diversity at the workplace; I was put in touch with affinity groups at Schulte as soon as I arrived and got to do pro bono work associated with my affinity group. Schulte is aware of the changing demographics at law firms and definitely wants to stay ahead of the curve.

UVA law student

I'm genuinely excited to start working here, because I know I'll be doing important work with incredible people from day one. The summer program did a great job of exposing me both to the firm's culture and its substantive work. It was really great to see how down to earth, hardworking and smart everyone working here is.

Penn law student

The substantive and engaging assignments I've received at SRZ have helped bridge the gap between learning about the law and actually practicing it.

Georgetown law student

Going into the summer, I was not sure what type of work I would like the most. Having the opportunity to work with different groups throughout the summer has better informed me of the kind of work different groups do and what I would be doing in those departments as an associate.

Harvard law student

The summer program has helped me explore different practice areas through a variety of substantive assignments, formal training, social events and mentorships. Everyone I met at Schulte has been very welcoming and interested in supporting my professional development.

Duke law student

A typical day for me would be drafting documents for a hedge fund or working on an IPO during the day, then going to a firm event in the evening, such as playing catch on Citi Field after a Mets game or a networking event with one of the practice areas in the firm.

NYU law student

Having an associate sit down with me to go over my legal research in depth, page by page and case by case, to explain things that he thought I did well while suggesting ways to improve my skills beyond that of a summer or first-year associate was both awesome and rewarding.

Brooklyn law student

Because I'm often working with both a partner and associate on an assignment, I get to see intricate fund structures come together up close and form the greater picture. This stellar mentoring and instruction has given me a great look at what it is like to practice at a top investment management firm.

Cornell law student

What stood out to me about the SRZ summer program was the truly supportive network of mentors the firm provides. My associate buddy really went out of her way to make sure my summer went smoothly and that I got the most out of my experience.

USC law student

What Our Summer Associates Say About Schulte

Choosing the right place for your career is important. If you join our team, we can offer you a unique experience.

At Schulte, we are known for two things: doing great work in the financial services sector — and many related industries — and doing things a little differently than many of our peers. Our firm culture defines who we are, and we are committed to fostering conditions that allow our lawyers to develop their skills. We're proud to have a team of young, dynamic, diverse and entrepreneurial lawyers, complemented by experienced partners who are considered the best in their field. We have an atmosphere of professional informality where our lawyers are encouraged to be themselves and work collaboratively across practice groups. We work as a team to fulfill our clients' needs, and we encourage client contact early in our associates' careers. Our resources, people and expertise are what make us great. We hope you will continue to explore a career with Schulte.

We encourage you to visit our website or contact the Recruiting Department for more information about our firm.

Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
919 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10022
212.756.2000 | 212.593.5955 fax
recruiting.department@srz.com | www.srz.com

My summer mentor has gone above and beyond to make me feel comfortable at SRZ. The attorneys here are welcoming, approachable and happy to take the time to explain challenging legal concepts.

UVA law student

Schulte continues training summer associates beyond the initial orientation. Regular training — about everything from the financial services industry and effective legal writing to the firm itself — continues throughout the summer, along with consistent encouragement to always ask questions.

Fordham law student

So far this summer, I helped my mock LBO team put together a bid to buy a company, worked on insider trading and defamation cases, spent a week at a nonprofit that frees imprisoned journalists, drafted an argument for a motion to dismiss and researched the risk exposure of overseas funds to political corruption and money launderers.

Columbia law student

The LGBTQ Affinity Group was a highlight of my summer experience at Schulte. I felt accepted and appreciated for the diverse perspective I brought to the firm. Schulte is committed to embracing diversity in both the summer class and throughout the firm.

Michigan law student

Schulte Roth & Zabel

This communication is issued by Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP for informational purposes only and does not constitute legal advice or establish an attorney-client relationship. In some jurisdictions, this publication may be considered attorney advertising. ©2019 Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP. All rights reserved. SCHULTE ROTH & ZABEL is the registered trademark of Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP.