SRZ Attorneys Author Articles on Key Issues in the Structured Products & Derivatives Market

May 27, 2013

SRZ attorneys have recently authored a number of articles on current issues in the structured finance & derivatives market. The articles discuss key structured products topics, including collateralized loan obligations, OTC swap clearing rules and recent CFTC regulations.

In “Collateralized Loan Obligations: What to Expect When You Are Expecting Your First CLO,” which appeared in The Hedge Fund Journal, Craig Stein and former SRZ attorney Joseph Suh discuss what a potential new CLO manager should expect when considering the launch of its first CLO.

In “CLOs: An Expanding Platform,” a chapter in The International Comparative Legal Guide to: Securitisation 2013, Craig Stein and Paul N. Watterson, Jr. discuss the growth in the CLO market.

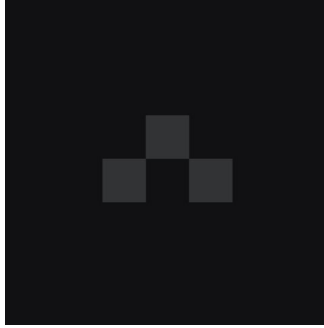

In “Margin Costs of OTC Swap Clearing Rules,” which appeared in the Harvard Business Law Review Online, Craig Stein, Joseph Suh and Paul Watterson, Jr. discuss the impact of regulations requiring clearing of over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives through central counterparties.
