Ronald Richman Discusses Jobless Claims on TheStreet

August 7, 2014

July 2014 was the sixth consecutive month that U.S. employers added 200,000 or more jobs, indicating that hiring is up. However, the unemployment rate edged up in July to 6.2 percent as more workers joined the labor force. In this video segment for TheStreet, SRZ partner and co-head of the Employment & Employee Benefits Group Ronald E. Richman breaks down the numbers behind the numbers.
