SRZ Partners Discuss New Margin Requirements for Uncleared Swaps in Harvard Business Law Review Online

August 2015

In a recent Harvard Business Law Review Online article, SRZ partners and co-heads of the Structured Finance & Derivatives Group Craig Stein and Paul N. Watterson, Jr. discuss the implications of the Dodd-Frank margin requirements for uncleared swaps recently proposed by the CFTC and the Prudential Regulators. The authors provide details on the background and scope of the requirements, which may have a costly and disruptive impact on the swaps markets.
