Michael Cook Provides Update on Bankruptcy Fee Shifting

January 2016

In “Update on Bankruptcy Fee Shifting,” a recent article published by The Bankruptcy Strategist, partner Michael L. Cook discusses recent bankruptcy decisions that show that the fee-shifting debate is still alive, despite the U.S. Supreme Court’s recent holding in Baker Botts LLP v. ASARCO LLP that “each litigant [in the U.S. legal system] pays [its] own attorney’s fees, win or lose, unless a statute or contract provides otherwise.”
