Schulte Roth Partners Discuss Hedge Fund Seeding

The Hedge Fund Journal

July/August 2016

Hedge fund seeding brings with it a variety of structures and arrangements, as there is not a one-size-fits-all system for seed deals. Though hedge fund seeding remains an active component of the start-up market and an important part of the business, it may not be as critical to launching as it was a few years ago. In this article, partners David Efron and David Nissenbaum discuss the varying and complex situations surrounding hedge fund seeding.
