Schulte Advises on DynCorp International's Acquisition by Amentum Holdings

November 2020

Schulte represented Cerberus Capital Management LP and DynCorp International in DynCorp's acquisition by Amentum Holdings LLC, a leading contractor to U.S. federal and allied governments. The acquisition will create one of the largest providers of mission critical support services with the companies having more than $6 billion in combined revenue in the past year. Amentum's combination with DynCorp will accelerate their growth, enhance market access and transform the company into one of the largest in the industry with over 34,000 employees in more than 30 countries around the world. The acquisition was announced in September 2020 and closed in November 2020.

The Schulte team advising Cerberus and DynCorp was led by M&A and securities partner Stuart Freedman. The team also included M&A and securities special counsel Gregory Kinzelman; tax partner Alan Waldenberg and associate Joseph Reich; employment & employee benefits partner Ian Levin, special counsel Scott Gold and associate Adam Gartner; intellectual property; real estate partner Julian Wise, special counsel Amiel Mandel and associate Aaron Schwed; litigation partners Michael Swartz and Gary Stein; environmental partner Howard Epstein and special counsel Theodore Keyes; and former Schulte lawyers Thomas DeFranco, Antonio Diaz-Albertini, Andrew Fadale, Michael Gilligan, Caitlin Cornell, Nicolette Fata, Talia Jaffe, McKenzie Osborne, David Passey, Jennifer Gordon, Edward Sadtler and Sarah Sullivan.
