Private Capital, Investment Management Fuel Strong Bounceback Year for Schulte

The American Lawyer

April 6, 2022

In “Private Capital, Investment Management Fuel Strong Bounceback Year for Schulte,” The American Lawyer profiles Schulte Roth & Zabel’s “solid financial performance in 2021, as the firm saw double-digit PPP growth and a jump in revenue.”

The firm’s focused strategy in going to market, and the focus on private capital and investment managers was key to the firm’s success last year. “We are an elite, high-level financial services firm that focuses on private capital,” co-managing partner David Efron said.

Also citing groundbreaking work on proxy campaign Engine No. 1, co-managing partner Marc Elovitz said, “That was really indicative of the fact that this is our sweet spot...The most sophisticated work that is outside the box. We are doing leading matters and not afraid to be different or go against big competition.”
