

FIRM NEWS

Schulte announces 2023 pro bono honorees

December 11, 2023

Schulte Roth & Zabel hosted the firm's 2023 Pro Bono Awards celebration, where Schulte lawyers and business professionals who made a significant impact through their pro bono service were honored. Each honoree contributed more than 50 hours of pro bono work in 2023.

The evening's guest speaker was SAGE CEO Michael Adams, who on behalf of SAGE (Advocacy & Services for LGBTQ+ Elders) received the firm's Brooks Burdette Strategic Partner Award, which recognizes public service organizations for their enormous contributions to the betterment of society.

Randall Adams, litigation partner and 2022 recipient of the Howard Godnick Public Service Award, presented this year's award to M&A associate Casey Daggett, who also received a $1,000 donation to the pro bono client of her choice. "The Howie" Award is given to the Schulte associate or special counsel who has shown exemplary leadership and commitment to their pro bono work.

Sara Solfanelli, Special Counsel for Pro Bono Initiatives, introduced the inaugural edition of the Schulte Pro Bono Initiatives—Impact magazine, which highlights some of the firm's pro bono clients and pro bono work.

Read the firm's Impact magazine here.

View the list of the 2023 Schulte Pro Bono honorees here.

Learn more about the firm's pro bono work here.

Related People

Randall
Adams

Partner
New York

Sara Solfanelli

Special Counsel for Pro
Bono Initiatives
New York

Casey Q.
Daggett

Associate
New York

Practices

PRO BONO

